

"A STRAY" (2016)

Screening and Q&A with filmmaker, Musa Syeed

Musa Sayeed is an independent filmmaker and writer.

His two narrative feature films A STRAY (sxsw '16) and VALLEY OF SAINTS (Sundance Film Festival, Audience Award '12) were both New York Times Critics Picks. The BIG HOUSE, a narrative short Syeed shot in Yemen, was a 2014 Sundance selection. His current features in development have been supported by the San Francisco Film Society, Tribeca Film Institute, and Torino Film Lab. His previous films include the short documentaries BRONX PRINCESS (Official Selection: Berlinale) and A SON'S SACRIFICE (Best Short Doc, Tribeca Film Festival & International Documentary Awards). Both films had national PBS broadcasts and were co-produced with Yoni Brook. He also co-directed THE CALLING, a documentary miniseries for PBS' Independent Lens, and contributed several video reports for TIME.com.

Tuesday
October 3, 2017
7 p.m.

Linsly-Chittenden Hall
LC 101
63 High Street

Yale Center for the Study of Race, Indigeneity, and Transnational Migration

Yale MACMILLAN CENTER
Program on Refugees, Forced Displacement, and Humanitarian Responses