

Yale MACMILLAN CENTER

Program on Refugees, Forced Displacement, and Humanitarian Responses

FIRE AT SEA

November 7

In Fire at Sea, Director Gianfranco Rosi sheds light on the subject of African migration to Europe by training his camera on Lampedusa, a picturesque island located halfway between Libya and Sicily, where more than 100,000 Africans first set foot on European soil every year. Rosi also served as cinematographer for this documentary, which won the Golden Bear at the 2016 Berlin International Film Festival.

DHEEPAN

November 28

Dheepan is a 2015 French crime drama film directed by Jacques Audiard. The film tells the story of three Tamil refugees who flee the civil war-ravaged Sri Lanka and come to France, in the hope of reconstructing their lives. The film won the Palme d'Or at the 2015 Cannes Film Festival.

Professor Naysan Adlparvar, Rice Faculty Fellow (2017-18) will introduce the film.

Both films screened at 7pm in
Henry R. Luce Hall Auditorium

